

Unlocking New Savings in Worker's Compensation Medical Management

In today's rapidly evolving healthcare landscape, controlling medical costs is more crucial than ever for businesses. With healthcare inflation on the rise and medical expenses ballooning, organizations are under significant pressure to manage these costs effectively. The dynamic landscape of healthcare allows the AuditIQ program by ComplIQ to stand out as an innovative tool designed to optimize medical bill review processes and leverage the healthcare price transparency legislation enacted in 2022. Our proprietary technology taps into a vast reservoir of negotiated rates, offering unprecedented accuracy and savings in worker's compensation, auto, and Office of Workers' Compensation Programs (OWCP) billing.

The AuditIQ program has emerged as an innovative tool that offers strategic advantages in managing worker's compensation medical costs.

The AuditIQ program has emerged as an innovative tool that offers strategic advantage in managing worker's compensation medical costs. The healthcare sector has been experiencing unprecedented inflation, leading to soaring medical expenses that can severely impact a business's bottom line. In this context, the healthcare price transparency legislation enacted in 2022 is a pivotal development. It mandates that all commercial payers make their prices publicly available, offering a unique opportunity for businesses to gain insights into healthcare costs and negotiate better rates. AuditIQ leverages this legislation, utilizing proprietary technology to access and analyze billions of negotiated rates from over 185 health plans, ensuring businesses can make informed decisions and achieve substantial savings.
